OUR WORK IN ACTION

Responsible Alpha has worked hands-on at the level of national governments in working with LINGO to support the Mexican's government's effort to address climate and sustainability challenges through its national oil company, PEMEX. Through assessing existing emission reduction strategies and critical gaps and opportunities for leveraged impacts, Responsible Alpha developed annual emissions reduction pathways. These pathways aligned with ambitious climate targets while also enhancing financial performance and contributing to broader social outcomes through social good frameworks. This work supported a more integrated approach to national energy policy and corporate accountability.
